1.1 About Territory Funds Management

Territory Funds Management was founded in 2016 by Gareth Jakeman and Matthew Harrington. It is a part of the Praescius group of companies and is responsible for investment management activities. The business was formed to offer clients a bespoke and unique investment offering through separately managed accounts.

The founders of Territory Funds Management have a wealth of experience in the financial services industry managing assets and providing investment advice for over 20 years. Their key investment capabilities span across all asset classes in both domestic and global markets.

1.2 Investment Process

In order to execute their investment philosophy, Territory Funds Management follows a disciplined investment process. This process also incorporates your investment goals.

UNDERSTANDING TIME FRAME AND PURPOSE

Investment requires an understanding of time frame and purpose. The purpose of any investment put simply is to accumulate and grow the capital base in a risk managed way. This will allow investors to meet their ongoing liabilities through the life cycle. Territory Funds Management believes this is ultimately the reason why clients are driven to invest.

Territory Funds Management's investment style is best suited to investors that have discussed their financial goals and objectives with a qualified financial adviser to determine whether they are appropriate and achievable.

RISK MANAGEMENT

Territory Funds Management manages risk in a number of ways:

- » Analysis of cash movements in and out of the Investment Options and Managed Portfolios. Territory believe long term returns may be achieved by avoiding the need to reduce exposure to good assets when there is a downturn in market sentiment, if adequate liquidity is maintained to meet obligations. This is known as "sequence risk."
The definition of sequence risk is the risk of receiving lower or negative returns early in a period when withdrawals are made from an individual's underlying investments. The order or the sequence of investment returns is a primary concern for investors that have a finite capital base.
- » Dynamic asset allocation assists with managing risk by ensuring the outlook for relevant financial markets, sentiment and momentum are considered against the Investment Options and Managed Portfolios volatility objective.

- » The Investment Options and Managed Portfolios have the flexibility to hold a high proportion of cash.

This enshrines Territory Funds Management's belief that:

- » Liquidity provides the best flexibility to manage sequencing risk.
- » Cash is not always contributed to a portfolio at the optimum time to invest. That is, there are times where asset valuations do not justify buying a particular asset/s.
- » If research indicates periods of abnormal downside volatility and we believe liquidity may assist to manage this volatility.

1.3 Investment Strategy

Investment Selection

Territory Funds Management follow a rigorous approach to investment selection which allows them the ability to select investments, asset classes and/or investment managers that they believe are best placed to achieve the targeted risk adjusted returns across the relevant timeframe.

The selection of investments and investment managers for the Investment Options and Managed Portfolios is underpinned by both quantitative and qualitative research.

In addition, the experience of the Investment Committee contributes to the broader decision making process to determine if an investment and/or investment manager is appropriate (and vice versa) for each Investment Option and Managed Portfolio.

Territory Funds Management believes in the fundamentals of:

- » Productive enterprise investing as it may produce the optimal way to grow investor wealth.
- » Detailed implementation of investment strategy and objectives. Attention to detail on the implementation is important.
- » Benchmark unaware investing, as it allows for a more efficient use of resources and may deliver outperformance over the long term when compared to benchmark driven investing.

Following selection, ongoing monitoring is undertaken of all investments and/or investment managers to ensure they remain appropriate for the strategy of each Investment Option and Managed Portfolio.

Portfolio Construction

As Territory Funds Management has focused each Investment Option and Managed Portfolio to be cognisant of client driven outcomes. The construction of each Investment Option and Managed Portfolio reflects this methodology.

Implementation of selected investments and/or investment managers is determined by:

- » the risk and return target of each Investment Option and Managed Portfolio;
- » correlation of other investments in each Investment Option and Managed Portfolio; and
- » its impact on asset and sector weightings in each Investment Option and Managed Portfolio.

The Investment Options and Managed Portfolios are monitored and assessed on an ongoing basis, to identify any opportunities and potential risks to each strategy.

1. It is at the sole discretion of the MDA Provider to accept investments below the minimum investment amount.

Before you make an investment decision, it is important that you understand the risks that can affect your investment. You must be prepared for the risk that your investment does not meet your investment objectives or you lose money on your investment.

Specific investment risks apply to all investments that may have an effect on the value of your MDA. The risks of investing by following the strategy and parameters of the Managed Portfolios may include, but are not limited to, the following factors:

- » Market risk – Unexpected conditions (i.e. economic, technological or political) can have a negative impact on the returns of all investments within a particular market. General movements in local and international stock markets, prevailing and anticipated economic conditions, investor sentiment, interest rates and exchange rates could all affect the value of listed securities and the investment returns.
- » Company or security specific risk – Risks which could affect the value of a specific security, such as a fall in the profit performance of a company, may impact adversely on its share price and may also affect the interest rate it has to pay to borrow funds, which in turn, can affect the value of its debt securities.
- » Currency risk – If the Managed Portfolio's investments in international assets are unhedged, a rise in the Australian dollar relative to other currencies will negatively impact investment values and returns. Currency markets can be extremely volatile and are subject to a range of unpredictable forces. It is not the Investment Sub-Adviser's intention to hedge the foreign currency exposure of the Managed Portfolio arising from investments in overseas markets.
- » Interest rate risk – Changes in interest rates can influence the value and returns of investment in the Managed Portfolio.
- » Credit risk – Any change in the market perception of the creditworthiness of a security or the credit rating of the issuer of the security may affect the security's value.
- » Investment Sub-Adviser risk – This is the risk that the Investment Sub-Adviser may not achieve its stated investment objectives or that changes in the investment team may impact on the performance of the Investment Sub-Adviser.
- » Liquidity risk – The risk that the Managed Portfolio may experience difficulty in realising its assets.
- » Time horizon risk – There is no assurance that in any time period, particularly in the short term, a Managed Portfolio will achieve its investment objectives. Many of the underlying assets may be volatile particularly over the short term. The Managed Portfolio is suitable for long term investors and is not designed for short term investment.
- » Income risk – The level of income generated on the Managed Portfolio's investments can fall as well as rise and the tax status of such income can change.
- » Asset risk – Asset risk is the risk that a particular asset or asset class in which the Managed Portfolio invests may fall in value, which may have an impact on the value of the Managed Portfolio.
- » Diversification/Concentration risk – If your Managed Portfolio is concentrated into one investment or sector, a fall in that investment or sector may have a significant adverse effect on your total MDA. Diversification is used as a strategy aimed at reducing the impact that volatility in one investment or sector will have on the performance of your overall Managed Portfolio. The Managed Portfolio will have a relatively higher concentration over time of listed securities but it is not possible to advise in advance the levels of concentration or diversification of issuers, types of investments or industry sectors.
- » Inflation risk – Your investment may not keep pace with inflation. Broadly, this could mean that prices may increase more than the value of your investments following the Managed Portfolio and if this risk eventuates, you would not be able to buy as much with the value of your investments in the future as you could now.
- » Investment risk – All investments have an inherent level of risk. The general expectation is that a high risk investment offers a higher expected return on investment. Investment risk may result in performance less than you expect or the loss of all of the capital invested or reduction in or no income and possible delays in repayment. Whilst it is the intention of the Investment Sub-Adviser to implement strategies designed to minimise potential losses, there can be no assurance that these strategies will be successful.
- » Specific portfolio risk – The Investment Sub-Adviser's investment approach may result in a Managed Portfolio that differs substantially from an industry benchmark and hence your MDA which follows that Managed Portfolio might have investment returns which also differ substantially from industry benchmark returns.
- » Third party risk – The MDA Provider uses information and services provided by third parties such as subcustodians and other service providers. Procedures are in place to address risks associated with outsourcing, such as having comprehensive service agreements with service providers. If a service provider advises of an error, it is corrected and if material, it will generally be communicated to you or your advisor (or both).
- » Systems and technology risk – The MDA Provider relies on the integrity and reliability of the trading and administration systems used to manage your managed account. To minimise potential risks, established systems operated by experienced system providers are used. The system providers must have backup arrangements and business continuity plans. In the event that the systems fail there may be delays in processing transactions or in accessing your investment capital and investment returns may differ from those that would have been achieved.

Please note that the risks identified are not meant to be exhaustive as it is not possible to identify every risk factor associated with investing. The appropriate level of risk for you will depend on various factors including your age, investment timeframe, other investments you may hold, and your level of risk tolerance. Investors who have concerns regarding any of the above risk factors, or any other applicable risks, are encouraged to contact their financial adviser.
